

Streaming Qobuz or Tidal on ATOLL's devices with BubbleUPnP app. (only with Android devices)

It is possible to stream directly music from Tidal or Qobuz on Atoll's devices.
(products concerned ST100-200, SDA100-200, MS100).

To do so, under Android smartphones or tab., you have to download BubbleUPnP app available on Google Playstore (free version limits access and parameters. (Complete version is available for few $))

The app allows to read all the music inside your device, in the network or on streaming like Qobuz, Tidal or Youtube.

Once the app opened, select the device where to play the music (here ST200 Atoll Streamer).

You can select the music in the « local renderer» (can be your device or something in the network).

You can select the streaming in the « cloud » section. There you'll find acces to Qobuz or Tidal.

Your streaming service will be available just after your personal login.
